

The number of case studies published in a given year, focusing on specific geographic regions.

